BARTH SYNDROME CONFERENCE 2026

ABOUT US

Since 2000, BSF has been a lifeline for those who are impacted by Barth syndrome, offering 24/7 support, pioneering standards of care and diagnosis, creating collaborations between clinicians, researchers and patients, driving discovery, and most importantly, making sure no person with Barth syndrome is ever alone.

VISION

A world in which Barth syndrome no longer causes suffering or loss of life.

MISSION

Saving lives through education, advances in treatments, and finding a cure for BTHS.

BARTH SYNDROME FACTS

Barth syndrome (BTHS) is an ultra-rare and life-threatening, X-linked mitochondrial disease that primarily occurs in males, impacts multiple body systems, and is caused by a genetic mutation in the TAFFAZIN gene.

CARDIOMYOPATHY/HEART FAILURE

73% of the BTHS population experiences heart failure or cardiomyopathy, increasing the risk of arrhythmias that can lead to cardiac arrest. 1/3 of individuals receive a heart transplant.

GLUCOSE DYSREGULATION

Serious hypoglycemic events in childhood as well as the onset of type 2 diabetes occurs in BTHS.

NEUTROPENIA

2/3 of individuals with BTHS have been diagnosed with neutropenia or found to have a low neutrophil count.

FAILURE TO THRIVE

Failure to thrive due to growth delay and gastrointestinal issues is highly prevalent. 43% of patients have had feeding tube/supplemental feeding at some point in life.

EXTREME FATIGUE

All muscles, including the heart, have a cellular deficiency which limits their ability to produce energy, creating extreme, life-altering fatigue in more than 50% of individuals.

Barth syndrome is life-limiting. A recent collaboration between Barth Syndrome Foundation and New York University has found that the highest hazard of death in individuals affected by Barth syndrome is before age 5.

BARTH SYNDROME CONFERENCE 2026

BIENNIAL CONFERENCE

The Barth Syndrome Foundation's (BSF) biennial conference brings affected families, research scientists, and clinicians together in one place at one time for a multi-track meeting. BSF and our affiliates in Canada, France, Italy and the United Kingdom firmly believe that while each of these groups can make some progress in their individual efforts, together we are so much more powerful.

BSF's conference is an all-inclusive ticket to access the global community of affected individuals, leading researchers, & groundbreaking research.
