

Barth Syndrome
Foundation

2022 International Scientific and Medical Virtual Symposium July 21-22, 2022

Call for Speaker and Poster Abstracts

Barth Syndrome Foundation (BSF) is seeking abstracts for our second Scientific & Medical (SciMed) Virtual Symposium and welcome submissions in Barth syndrome discovery science and disease management research, as well as related topics such as cardiolipin's role in physiology.

Key Dates:

- Call for Speaker Abstracts – Due March 31st
- Invited speakers will be notified by April 18th
- Call for Poster Abstracts – Due May 9th
- Invited posters will be notified by May 16th

- Selected speaker abstracts will be invited to present 20min talks on their research; selected poster abstracts will be pre-recorded and made accessible two weeks prior to the symposium
- Abstract submitters are asked to provide a one-page abstract (max 400 words) that briefly describes the proposed research presentation
- Submitted abstracts will be reviewed and selected by members of the Scientific Organizing Committee which is composed of Steve Claypool (JHU), Miriam Greenberg (Wayne State U), Grant Hatch (U Manitoba), Riekelt Houtkooper (AMC), and Hilary Vernon (JHU/KKI)
- Please direct any questions and abstract submissions to erik.lontok@barthsyndrome.org