2. Research Priorities Review
   a. Erik Lontok reviewed the three areas of research that are a priority for BSF and summarized what each means

      iv. Members of the SMAB will also join others in a natural history working group to advise BSF as it prepares to launch its natural history study
   c. Before reviewing individual research proposals, Erik noted that the SMAB has reviewed all submitted proposals and brings a recommendation to the board regarding whether or not BSF should fund the proposal. Erik will present the research proposals in order of support, beginning with the proposals with the highest level of support among the SMAB.
      i. During the review, Erik committed to sharing his own view of each proposal, noting where he may have a slightly different view from the SMAB
